EDUCATION

One September not so long ago, nineteen frightened boys came to Poly for their first day of school. That same September, a man entered Poly also for the first time.

The nineteen boys, their fear gone, all are members of the class of 1957. They and the fifty-five boys who were soon to join them have matured physically, mentally, and emotionally under Poly's sound program of athletic and scholastic training. However, most of all Poly has given them the lesson of noblesse oblige, the unwritten statute that makes a man a true gentleman.

The class of 1957 will always be indebted for these things both to Poly and to the man under whose guidance and leadership they have progressed and matured.

It is with a profound feeling of deference and appreciation that the class of 1957 dedicates this yearbook to:

In Memoriam

If it were not for the inscrutable dictates of fate, our classmate, Russell Trauerts, would have been graduated in our ranks. We his classmates shall never forget him any more than we all shall forget Poly Prep in the years lying before us.

FOREWORD

In 1755 Samuel Johnson published his Dictionary of the English Language containing not only precise definitions of common words, but also amusing reflections on their application to Eighteenth-Century English life. The dictionary was the culmination of many years of careful research and meticulous work.

Since the definitions have become so quaint and so amusing and since so few first editions were published, the original dictionary has become a collector's item only two hundred years after its publication.

Poly was indeed fortunate to be presented with an original copy of this prized possession by Mr. Robert Pace '24, the president of Pace College and one of Poly's distinguished alumni.

Inasmuch as it felt that the archaic print and unusual definitions would be of general interest to the readers of the yearbook, the board of the 1957 POLYGLOT decided to utilize the dictionary, symbolic of the words we use to express our thoughts, as the theme of its book.

Hertz, Sherman, Glick.

WHAT Poly has given us, we can neither measure in words nor pay back in gratitude. She has presented us with the environment necessary for the development of character: unequalled athletic facilities to train our bodies and further our sense of sportsmanship, courses of study to cultivate our minds, a faculty to serve not only as teachers but also as friends, and, most important, the homelife so essential in our formative years. These facets of Poly life have all laid the foundation for us to become useful members of society.

For this precious gift, we can only give our thanks, realizing that the debt we owe to Poly is something intangible which we shall carry with us throughout our lives.

THE class of 1958, the present Junior Class, distinguished itself in scholastics and excelled in athletics. Eight boys made semester honors; three were chosen to give speeches in chapel. Twelve won letters in fall and winter sports: seven in football, three in soccer, and two in cross country. In soccer, Robert Brower was chosen Ivy League goalie.

Winter sports were strengthened considerably by Juniors. Bruce Henningsen captained a successful board track team and went undefeated in dual meet competition; Chris Cresci highlighted the swimming season by breaking two former records; Joel Pensky won the Novice Rifle Tournament.

In other phases of Poly life, four members of the class worked with the POLYGLOT, twenty with the Glee Club, thirteen with the Polygon, and seven with the Band and Orchestra. A new and startling dance combo appropriately named the Fifth Form Five performed in chapel and also highlighted the Columbia Press Association Tea Dance.

Juniors were also very active in extra curricular activities such as the Art Club, the Classical Music Society, and the Dramatic Club.

For this year's Junior Prom, the social highlight of the year, Commons Hall was artistically transformed into a miniature Venice, complete with gondola. The George Bohn Orchestra, interrupting their engagement at the Waldorf-Astoria, supplied the music. Over two hundred and fifty couples danced at the most successful prom in years.

Fourth Form

ENTERING the upper school, the Fourth Form distinguished itself athletically and scholastically. Fourteen sophomores were on the honor roll for the first semester, and eighteen boys won varsity letters.

In addition to their scholastic and athletic accomplishments, the class of 1959 widely participated in extra-curricular activities. About one-half of the class was represented in the major activities of the school. Other boys were members of the 'Gon Heelers or the Debating Club.

Kraus and Solomon distinguished themselves in athletics by starting on the 1956 Championship Football Team. Bakis was the only sophomore to win a varsity letter in Soccer. Wilson, Schram, and Goddard won their letters in Cross Country. Weinstock was on the varsity basketball team, and Weiss, Wahl, and Nesi made the Swimming team. Sirianni, Lichtman, and Cherry were on the Wrestling team, while the Board Track team was ably supported by the fine running of Napodano, Wilson, Schram, Goetz, and Guttadaro.

Several Fourth Formers either spoke or performed in chapel. Siegle spoke as part of the Thanksgiving Day program, and Horn lectured on his shell collection in a Tuesday assembly. Raphael was a member of a debating team which spoke in chapel, and numerous organ recitals were given by Horn, Guarino, and Brown.

Those on the first semester honor roll were:

Third Form

LEADING the school in scholarship and excelling in athletics, the class of 1960 is proving to be one of Poly's greatest. The Third Form led the school in scholastics by placing fifteen boys on the First Semester Honor Roll.
 Six boys distinguished themselves by winning J. V. football letters, and twenty-eight were on freshman teams thus providing Poly with many future gridiron stars. Berg, E. Pickens, and Fearon each delivered speeches as a part of chapel programs. Three third formers—F. Tuttle, Kaufman, and D. Swift—won Novice Wrestling Tournament medals, while Wollman, Tuttle, Swift, and Strafacci wrestled on the varsity. Third Form boys were also active in the musical department. Nine boys participated in the school orchestra and ten performed in the band. Mitchell, Groothuis, Romans, B. Marcus, DiGregorio, and D. Swift sang in "H. M. S. Pinafore." The Middler Glee Club was composed chiefly of freshmen. A few enterprising boys—Perry, Berg, M. Marcus, B. Marcus, and Rosenberg—went even farther and organized the "Dick Van Combo" Band, which also played in chapel.

During the Thursday morning home room period, the form had some informative discussions. Roger Bermas, President of the Oasis, emphasized to the form the importance of beginning to work early toward Oasis. Robert Pickens and Jim Zirin addressed the group on the Polygon and the POLYGLOT, the two school publications.

Second Form

THIS year the Second Form consisting of 67 students was divided into four groups. The boys participated widely in athletic contests in which the football team with three losses and no wins and the soccer team, led by captain Kenneth Duberstein, with three losses and one tie, had unsuccessful seasons.

During the winter season, the swimming team had a record of one win and one loss, while the basketball team had a record of five wins and one defeat. The wrestling team won its only contest. The track team, combined with the freshmen, was undefeated in two encounters. Varsity letters went to Peter Cresci in swimming and to Andy Graham in wrestling.

Several boys performed in Chapel. Salvatore Tocci recited a poem for Lincoln's birthday, Michael Rebell gave a piano recital, and Michael Herman played the organ on several occasions.

First Form

THIS year eighteen boys were admitted to the First Form making a total of sixty-one boys in the class.

The First Form was divided into four groups under Mr. Conover, Mrs. O'Donnell, Mr. Bartholomew, and Mrs. Alder.

During the fall season, Mr. Bart's class sold hot dogs at the Poly football games with all the proceeds going to the Flatbush Boy's Club. Mrs. O'Donnell and her class had a raffle for the March of Dimes.

Eight boys participated in Poly's H. M. S. Pinafore under the supervision of Dr. Lambert, Mr. Winder, and Mr. Webel. The production was held in the Academy of Music. This was a new experience for most of these boys.

Mrs. Alder and Mrs. O'Donnell took the boys to see "War and Peace" and later they took the boys to the R. K. O. Dyker Theater to see "Anastasia."

Four boys won the Brotherhood Poster Contest. These boys were Michael Ingram, Dennis Pantano, James Gertz, and Ted Ronca.

The class of '62 promises to be successful in every way.

The New boys were: Andreozzi, Bobrow, Crisalli, Davidson, Dorn, Flug, Hall, Hoffman, Marlin, Olson, Orlando, Panetta, Pantano, Rich, Shepler, Spiegel, Voss, Zamore.

Sixth Grade

THE Sixth Grade, in three sections directed by Miss Bowler, Mrs. Lamb, and Mr. Darr, has participated effectively in a wide range of academic, civic, and recreational activities.

A memorable event of the year was the Christmas play, "The Revolt of the Toys," in which each member of the grade took part.

Trips to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Cloisters, and the Museum of Natural History enriched the social studies program. The Book Club, Poetry Society, Current Events Club, Original Story Club, and the Music Club met weekly to provide an opportunity for the sharing of stimulating experiences. The annual hobby show displayed the out-of-school interests of all the boys.

The Sixth Grade also participated in the Lower School Council, which discusses and helps solve Lower School problems. From this grade also comes the second vice-president of the Lower School, Howard Marren.

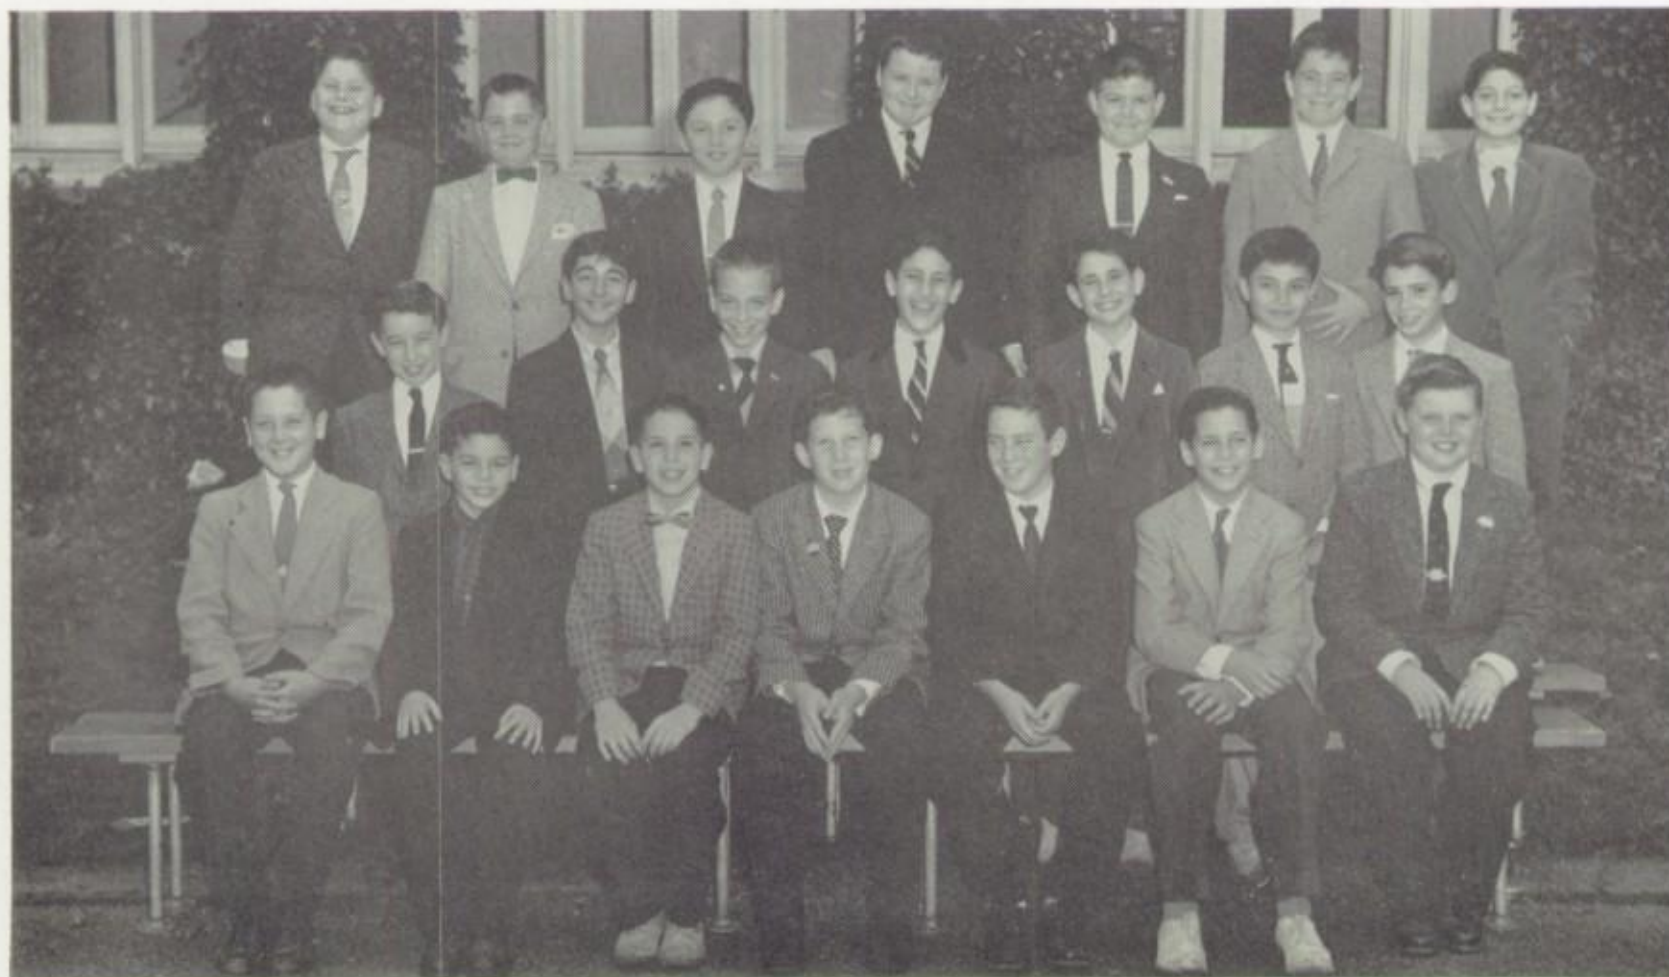

CHRISTMAS PLAY

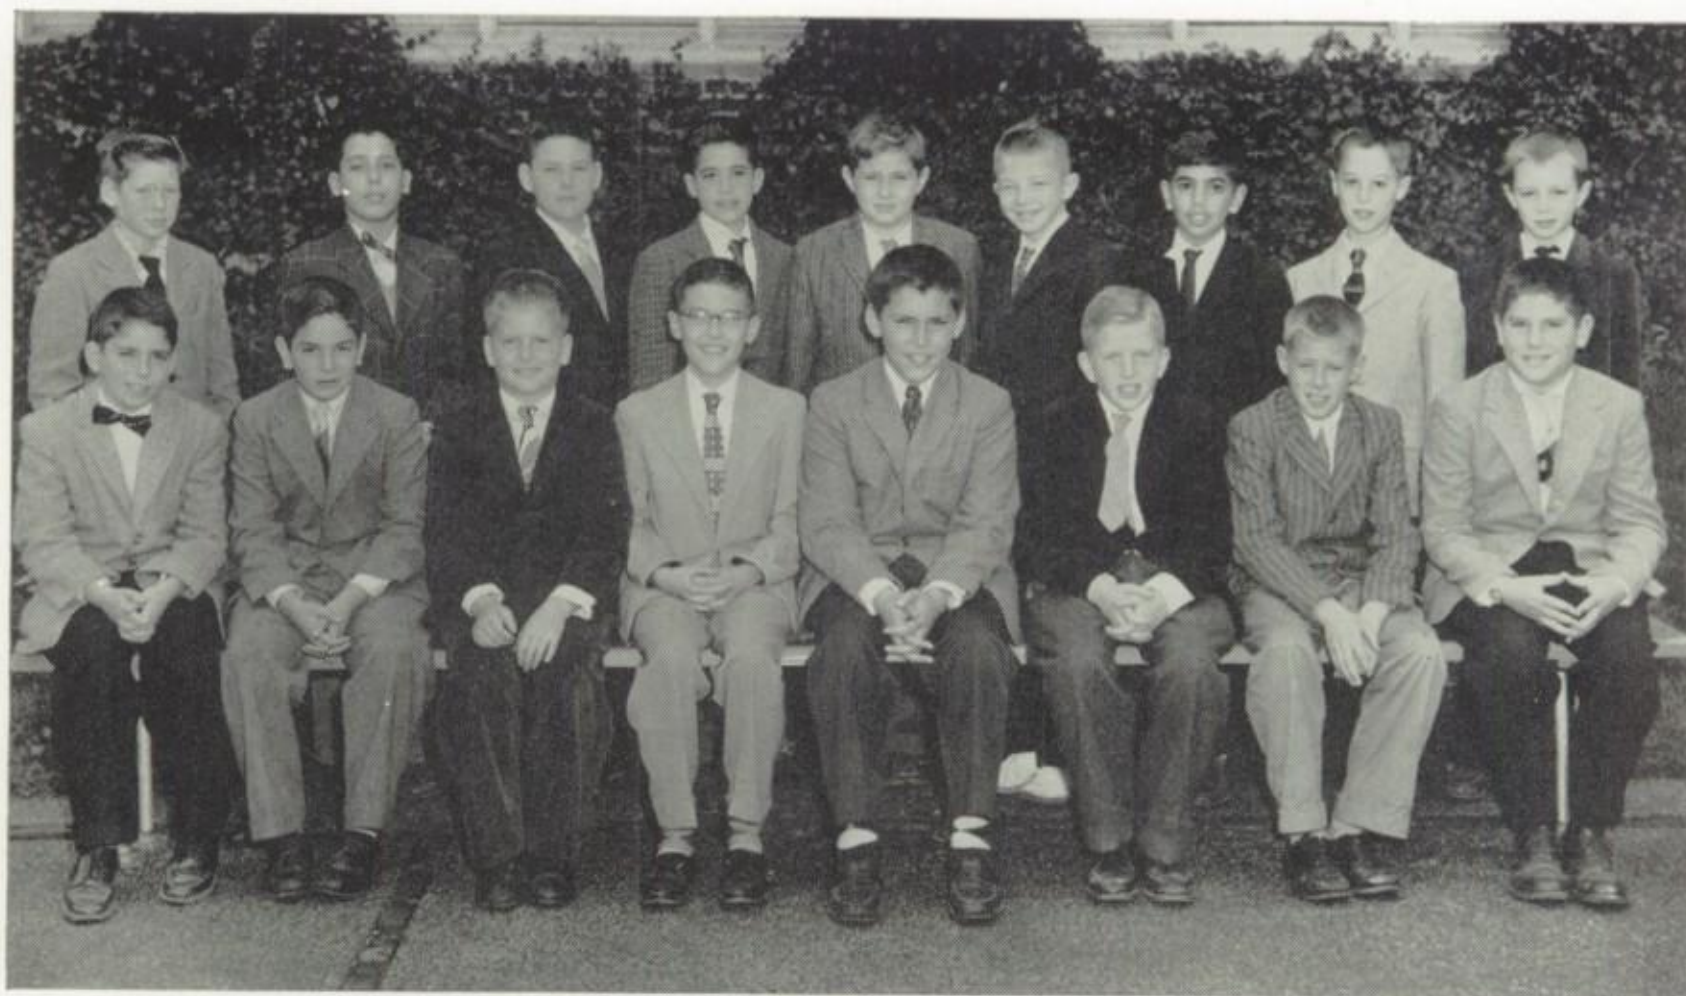

THE members of the sixth grade, under the direction of Miss Bowler, staged the annual Christmas play on December 21. Mrs. McBlair designed the scenery for the production of "The Revolt of the Toys," and Mr. Webel trained and directed the chorus.

The same production was presented by the Sixth Grade class of 1951, when twenty-two present seniors had parts in the play.

Fifth Grade

THERE were seventeen boys in this year's Fifth Grade class.

The class engaged in many projects in social studies, and many interesting drawings appeared on the classroom walls from time to time. Writing to pen pals in England helped to make letter writing interesting instead of a possible chore. In connection with their study of South America, the Fifth Graders learned a few basic words and phrases in Spanish. The Fifth Grade Library Club was started during the second semester, and the boys learned about the many uses of the library.

Cum Laude

ELECTION to the Cum Laude Society is considered the highest scholastic honor attainable by a Poly student. Each year ten to fifteen percent of the senior class is selected for this honor by the Headmaster and the heads of the departments. Admission is based on the highest standards of character and scholastic ability. This year twelve boys were presented their ribbons and were formally inducted into the society at a dinner held in May.

Cum Laude is a national honor society which was founded at the Tome school in 1906. The Poly chapter was established in 1908 when Dr. Hawes founded the Eta chapter of Alpha Delta Tau. In 1912 Dr. Van Vleck succeeded Dr. Hawes as secretary, held that post for forty years, and resigned it to Mr. Conover two years ago. Dr. Kastendieck became president after Mr. John Kirkland Clark vacated the position in 1955.

The members in order of their standing are:

 PETER SIVIGLIA
 ROGER EDWARD BERMAS

 ROBERT PHILIP LAFIANDRA
 KENNETH ALLEN BRADFORD
 ANTHONY ALLAN GOODMAN

Oasis

ONE of the highest honors attainable by any Poly student is admission into the Oasis, the school honor society. Founded in 1908, this organization seeks only those boys who display sound character and diversified ability. Admission is based on a point system, which allots values to achievements in all aspects of Poly life. The point system assures the society of the most well-rounded boys in the school.

The admission elections are held mainly in the Senior Form, although there are junior elections later on in the school year. The candidates in each form with the highest number of points are nominated by the Oasis for election.

This year's Oasis, which met regularly to discuss problems of Poly life, sponsored numerous activities and functions in the school. As in previous years, the Oasis commenced the year with a reception for the new boys. On this occasion, the newcomers received guidebooks to help them become acquainted with Poly life.

At Christmas and Thanksgiving, the Oasis collected money for various local charities. In this same spirit the society sponsored a basketball game and a subsequent dance to raise funds for the March of Dimes.

In addition, the Oasis played host to Mahgoub Obeid Taha, a Herald Tribune delegate from the Sudan. After his pleasant and informative visit, the Oasis presented Mahgoub with a gift and inducted him into the society as an honorary member.

Polyglot

ANOTHER year has swiftly passed, and the career at Poly of the class of 1957 is at last coming to a close. We who are about to leave shall forever hold precious the remembrances of the fleeting Poly years. Many years hence we shall look with much nostalgia at this yearbook, The POLYGLOT, which unfolds a panorama in picture and story of the past year. We shall vicariously relive the humor, the joy, and the excitement of our last year.

This POLYGLOT, side by side with its fifty-six predecessors, will eventually take its place on the shelves of the school library, on the bookcase in the Polygon office, and in the 'GLOT closet. Perhaps it will soon be forgotten. However, for the seventy-four seniors of this year's class, the POLYGLOT will remain as a precious memento to take to college campuses throughout the land and ultimately to find a permanent place in their libraries.

For the board, however, the 'GLOT has an even more important significance. The POLYGLOT represents the culmination not only of our work at school but also of our work on the yearbook. Indeed, we have worked hard throughout the year in an effort to produce a book worthy of the name it bears.

The POLYGLOT, unlike many school yearbooks, is entirely produced by the board. The articles, art work, photographic layouts, and finances are all the products of the various departments listed below. In truth the 'GLOT of 1957 is the concrete fruition of our ideas and the synthesizing of our various departments.

The Board of Editors of course assume full responsibility for the performance of the duties assigned to them. They have endeavored to execute these duties to their utmost capacity. Whatever defects which may appear in the 'GLOT are solely their own.

Finally, every reader of the POLYGLOT should realize that the yearbook is something which the senior class bequeaths to the school and which the school, in a sense, leaves to the senior class. We sincerely hope that this year's 'GLOT will serve as a source of entertainment and happy memories for many years to come.

Band and Orchestra

THE Poly Band, under the direction of Mr. Webel, not only provided the half-time music for the home football games, but for the first time in several years supplemented their music with marching. The several pre-game rallies, which were held during the year for all sports, were also provided with musical inspiration by the famed Poly virtuosos.

Glee Club

THE Poly Glee Club, consisting of some of the more melodious Poly voices, entertained the student body in several assembly programs this year, including the Christmas and Lincoln-Washington programs. The Glee Club also continued the singing of carols in Poly halls at Christmas time.

They also spent a major portion of the Spring term preparing for "H. M. S. Pinafore" which was performed at the Academy of Music March 21. Thirty glee-clubbers were members of the chorus and most of the principal parts were taken by Glee Club members.

Polygon

PUBLISHING the news faithfully week by week, this year's Polygon remained as one of the finest secondary school newspapers in the nation by winning, for the twenty-fourth consecutive time, the medalist rating of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Ever since its inception in 1914 as the first school newspaper in Brooklyn, the 'Gon has consistently maintained this high standard.

Boasting unusual make-up and expanded photographic work, the Polygon appeared twenty-four times, bringing school news and features to approximately 3200 students and alumni. Noteworthy in this year's publications were the many feature articles, unique news, and extended sports coverage.

The 'Gon, carrying the first official announcement of the new Honor and Credit system, polled student opinion on this and various other controversial school topics. The editorial page was enlivened by a satirical insight into school happenings by means of the "Around the School" column and the periodic theater tips.

The work of the editor-in-chief, sports editor, and business manager was especially commendable.

GON HEELERS

THE Gon Heelers, a group of nineteen Fourth Formers, interested in journalism and in contributing to the 1958 Polygon, met Mondays and Thursdays of each week to learn the techniques and mechanics of producing a paper. Under the guidance of Mr. Hughes the journalists-to-be assisted this year's Polygon staff in the circulation and business departments and also were given the opportunity to observe the working of a daily newspaper in their tour of the New York Times. The members were as follows: Calhoun, Farr, Walker, R. Gertz, S. Siegle, Tartikoff, Berman, Angelo, S. Lowenstein, Julien, S. Raphael, Schottenfeld, Arida, Greenstein, Silvy, Weiss, Landesman, Mettler, and Wahl.

Dramatic Club

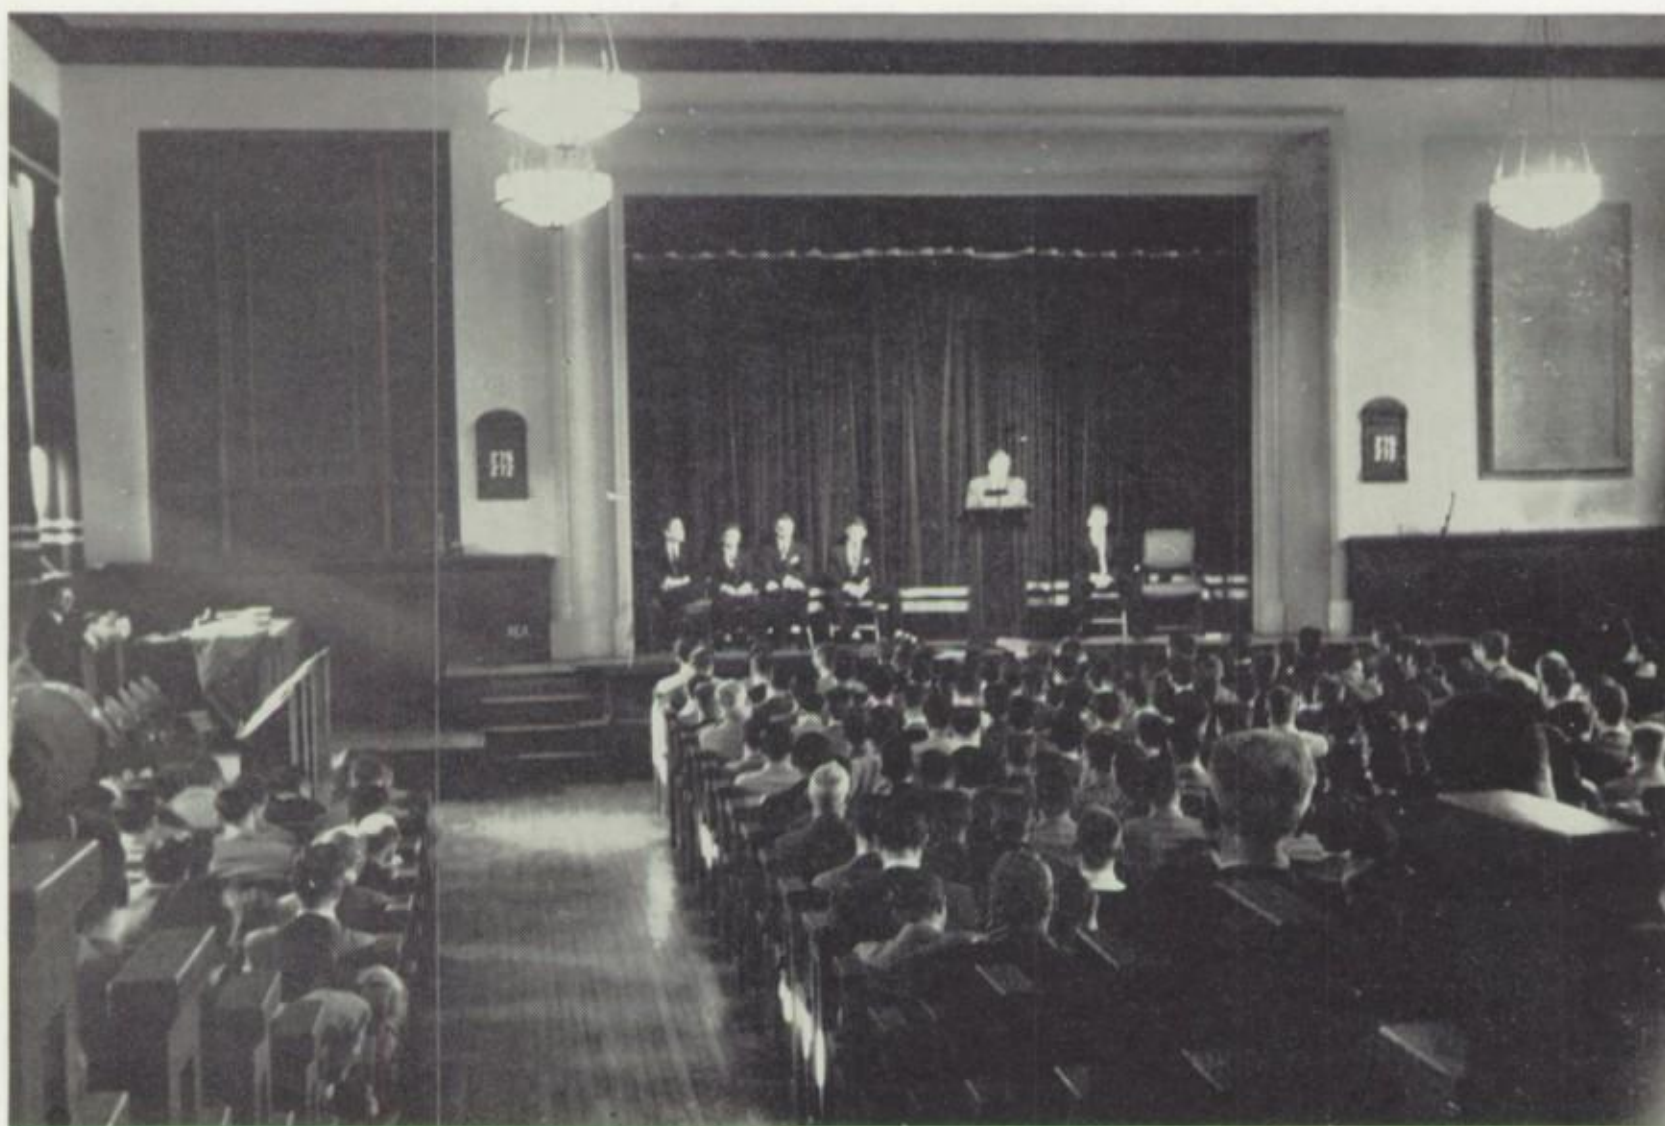

THE actors of the Upper School entertained the student body this year with their production of Twelve Angry Men, originally presented on Studio One over CBS-TV.

The three-act play, written by Reginald Rose, is a tense jury room debate concerning the guilt or innocence of a nineteen-year-old boy charged with killing his father. At the outset of the trial, eleven of the jurors are in favor of conviction; however, the twelfth has doubts as to the culpability of the boy. As the record of the trial is re-examined and the murder re-enacted, tension mounts, tempers grow short, and the jurors become twelve angry men.

The play was excellently performed by Poly's Thespians, directed admirably by Mr. Winder, and well received by the whole school.

The members of the Dramatic Club, and the roles in which they appeared are as follows:

Foreman of the Jury	ROBERT LAFIANDRA

Chapel

DEDICATED to Poly graduates who gave their lives for their country in World War I, the Poly Memorial Chapel was completed in 1925. Poly boys here have the opportunity not only to worship and sing together, but also to meet as a group to enjoy the wide variety of chapel programs.

The Poly platform was the scene of sundry awards and presentations during the year. The presentation of Varsity letters, athletic cups, and prizes for extra-curricular activities allowed the achievements in many fields to be acknowledged by the student body.

Touching on a wide variety of subjects, the Tuesday morning assemblies proved constantly to be highly entertaining and enjoyable for all. The programs, arranged by Mr. Lucas, varied from the Walt Disney film, "A World Is Born" and the colored film on Alberta to a lecture demonstration on NIKE by a representative of the New York Telephone Company. The Upper Schoolers were privileged to hear a vocational talk on "The Medical Profession" by Dr. Oscar R. Schoenemann. One of the most stimulating chapel lectures was given by Dr. André F. Cournand, a Nobel Prize Winner in Medicine.

Tuesday mornings were utilized several times by the music department to present selections by the Glee Club, Quartet, Polytones, Band, and Orchestra.

The Dramatic Club presented very successfully their production of the television play, "Twelve Angry Men."

The chapel tradition continued to play an important part in the lives of Poly boys.

Library

THIS year, under the supervision of Mrs. Lilley, the library satisfied the intellectual as well as the pleasure-seeking propensities of Poly students and teachers. The wide selection of current periodicals and the sundry reference and fiction books attracted many students who, as a whole, borrowed more than eight thousand volumes during the year. The library enhanced its collection by the acquisition of almost three hundred volumes.

Such useful and noteworthy books as the World Book Encyclopedia, Collier's Encyclopedia, and Collier's World Atlas were donated in memory of Irwin Elliot Klein. A fifty-six volume set of Chronicles of America, purchased through the Larry Andrews Memorial Fund, also became an addition to our library.

To meet the ever-increasing demand for more magazines, Mrs. Lilley supplemented the already wide selection of periodicals with issues of Arts and Activities, Boats, Flying, High Fidelity, Holiday, Motor Trend, and Scientific American.

Mrs. Lilley continued to give unselfishly of her time and efforts to interest more students in using the wide variety of library resources. She also conducted a three month library class for fifth graders to show them how to utilize the facilities of the library to best advantage.

The increasing number of books available and the fine organization of the library have contributed to making it an indispensable part of school life.

Dances

THIS year, as in the past, the Poly social lions turned out en masse for all of our dances. The fifth form inaugurated the social season with the Junior Prom held on December 1. Those attending this gala affair (about 200 couples) found themselves in the heart of Venice dancing to the music of George Bohn's orchestra. The class of '58 had the audacity to borrow an idea from last year's junior class, namely us seniors, in turning the trophy room into a sidewalk cafe.

February 9 the annual Oasis-sponsored Basketball Dance was made more enjoyable by the victory of the basketball team in a game with St. Paul's preceding the dance. As always the proceeds of this dance went to the Polio Fund.

On May 25, the seniors had their big night at the Senior Prom. The formal affair was held in the Perroquet Suite of the Waldorf Astoria and was attended by the seniors and their dates, the senior faculty advisers and their wives, and the parents of the class officers. All those concerned tripped the light fantastic to the music of Tom Reynolds and his orchestra.

The Commencement Dance, also sponsored by the Oasis was the culmination of the Poly social season. This affair, which is usually given in the quadrangle, is always anxiously anticipated by all, not only because it is significant of the completion of the school year, but also because it guarantees an enjoyable evening.

Refreshments for all dances were kindly prepared and served by Miss Edith Rustin and her staff.

Pinafore

POLY boys, parents, and friends filled the Brooklyn Academy of Music on March 21, 1957, to enjoy the long-awaited presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's H. M. S. Pinafore. More than 100 Poly boys of the Upper and Middle Schools, representing the Dramatic Club, the Glee Club, and Orchestra, rehearsed ardently for several weeks in preparation for this two act musical. With the assistance of Dr. Lambert, Mr. Webel, Mr. Winder and Mrs. McBlair, who aided respectively in vocal, orchestral, dramatic and stage preparation, the culmination of weeks of devoted work was a very entertaining and successful performance. A great deal of thanks is owed to Miss Helen Bowman and Mrs. Betty Lambert, who so graciously played the female leads.

The cast in order of appearance was as follows:

Little Buttercup	Miss Helen Bowman
Bill Bobstay	Clifford Bernstein
Dick Deadeye	David Sherman
Ralph Rackstraw	Thomas Swift
Captain Corcoran	Charles Tolk

Shop

DONATED last year by the parents of the class of '56, the newly established manual arts workshop is the first fully equipped shop of its kind at Poly since World War II. Mr. William Christopher, in charge of the shop program, has equipped it with the finest in woodworking materials and electrical tools.

He has also spent considerable time in working with the boys and in teaching them how to operate the materials which they have at their disposal.

The Second Form boys in the club conducted a woodworking contest in which each participant constructed a mahogany hot-plate. Based on workmanship and detail of finish, the four best were selected and the owners were awarded prizes. In addition other club members constructed scenery for the Dramatic Club production and for the Junior Prom. The practical experience gained by working in the manual arts shop is valuable to any boy who is interested in developing his dexterity as a woodworker.

This organization in its short existence has proved to be very popular with Poly craftsmen and has become still another activity to be added to the long list of varied activities which cater to the diverse interests of Poly boys.

Football

IVY LEAGUE CHAMPIONS for the second straight year, the 1956 football team played superbly throughout the season. Inspired by the fighting spirit of Captain Nick Sirianni, the eleven was victorious in all seven of its contests. The hard-hitting aggressive team was built around Captain Sirianni, Ken Andreozzi, Cliff

Ostergren

Bernstein, Bruce Henningsen, Phil Hertz, and Tony Valerio. Teamwork and the desire to play were the keys to success; the whole team deserves praise for its splendid achievement.

In the opening game of the season, the Blue and Gray routed Stony Brook, 24-6. Paced by Bruce Henningsen's four touchdowns, the ground attack overwhelmed the Stony Brook eleven. Timely punts by Phil Hertz, the alertness of Nick Sirianni, and the powerful line play of Ken Andreozzi, Chuck Franco, and Tony Valerio formed an almost invulnerable defense.

In the next encounter, a weak Adelphi squad was crushed by the overwhelming score of 85-0. Seven boys crossed the goal line, as the undermanned Brown and Gold were held to one first down. Mickey Solomon led the field with three T. D.'s; Captain Sirianni, Vinnie Chiarello, Billy Drucker, and Bruce Henningsen each accounted for two.

Hackley, participating for the first time in Ivy League football, was the next team to invade our territory. Sporting a 3-0 record and acclaimed by sportswriters as one of the best teams in Westchester, the Tarrytowners arrived at Dyker Heights with high hopes. Capitalizing on Hackley's mistakes, the Poly gridders triumphed 25-13. The highlight of the game was a touchdown scored by Phil Hertz on an intercepted Hackley pass. Two interceptions by Bruce Henningsen, one by Captain Sirianni, the alertness of Wes Ostergren in recovering two fumbles, and the aggressiveness of Ken Andreozzi sparked the defense.

Being the only team in the Ivy League to work from a single wing formation, the Tuttlemen easily overpowered their next opponent, Riverdale. The Big Red was blanked for the first time in ten years, 19-0. Mickey Solomon, ably replacing the injured Billy Drucker at right halfback, scored in the first period on a 9-yard reverse around left end. After the halftime intermission, Henningsen intercepted a pass and returned it seventy yards for a touchdown. Art Kaplan notched the last T. D. on a right end sweep. Cliff Bernstein, Phil Hertz, and Tony Valerio excelled in defensive assignments.

In the first of its two away games, the team traveled to Horace Mann and downed the Hill-toppers, 27-13. Hampered by a wet field, our backs took to the air. A pass from Hertz to Henningsen covering sixty yards and another aerial from Henningsen to Hertz were the outstanding offensive plays of the day.

Scoring at least once in every period, the team defeated Trinity, 32-6, the following week. Bruce Henningsen accounted for two T. D.'s with beautiful runs of sixty-one and sixty-four yards. In the third period Phil Hertz took the pigskin on his own twenty yard line and raced eighty yards to pay dirt. Bernie Sarrel was the outstanding player on defense.

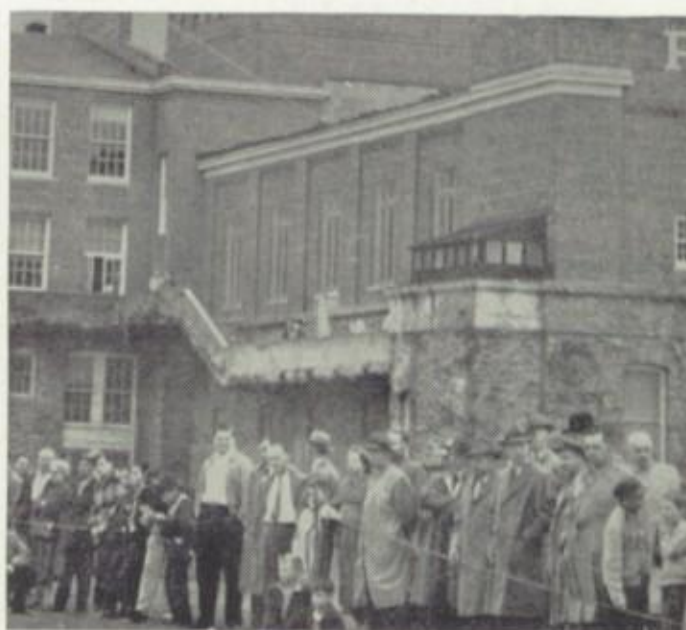

In the last game of the season, the gridders swamped St. Paul's, 41-13. Captain Nick Sirianni played the best game of his football career. Nick not only scored two touchdowns, but he also averaged eleven yards per carry. Sirianni's excellent game was complemented by the superlative performances of Andreozzi, Hertz, and Sarrel.

The following were awarded "P. P.": Captain N. Sirianni, Andreozzi, Bernstein, Drucker, Franco, Gurland, Gustafsson, Henningsen, Hertz, E. Jeffer, Kaplan, Kraus, J. Nova, Oremland, Ostergren, J. Pearlman, Robbins, Sarrel, Solomon, Valerio, and Managers Johnson and Zirin.

Soccer

ABLY led by Captain George Johnson, the 1956 Soccer team had a fine season, compiling a record of seven victories and four defeats. The squad, sparked by its All-Ivy League players—Captain George Johnson, Bob Brower, and Tony Goodman—placed second to Riverdale in Ivy League standing.

After losing to Pingry in its first game, the team blanked Riverdale, St. Paul's, and Hackley, 1-0, 4-0, 1-0, respectively. On a wind-blown field the Blue and Gray then eked out a 2-1 victory over Trinity in double overtime. Three days later, however, the eleven lost to Riverdale, 2-1, in a close game. Playing on a muddy field the team was then upset by Horace Mann, but triumphed over St. Paul's, 2-1, the following week. After losing to Hackley in the closing seconds of the game, 2-1, the Blue and Gray ended the season by vanquishing both Trinity and Horace Mann by identical scores of 2-1; both games were decided in double overtime.

The following were awarded "P. P.": Captain G. Johnson, Bakis, Brower, Cecere, Elkins, Gianini, Glick, Goodman, Groothuis, LaFiandra, Lebowitz, Lipson, McKenzie, Pickens, Rich, Sands, Swift, Zamore, and Manager Feldman.

Cross Country

IN the main a green squad, the 1956 Cross Country team experienced a poor season. With only one returning letterman, the harriers, led by Captain Mike Hyman, won only one of their five dual meets. However, many excellent prospects were developed for next year's team.

In its opening meet, the Blue and Gray defeated New Utrecht for its first and only victory, 26-29. Three days later, Poly was shutout by Stony Brook's powerful team, 40-15. After losing to Hackley, 38-17, the team dropped another meet to Pelham, 40-15. The Poly harriers next traveled to Van Cortlandt Park, where they placed fourth in the Ivy League meet. The ill-fated runners closed their season by losing to Horace Mann, 40-15.

The following were awarded "P. P.": Captain Hyman, Goddard, Mormando, Schram, Seidel, Weber, and Wilson.

Basketball

LED by Captain Phil Hertz, the 1956-57 basketball squad placed second in Ivy League standings with an over-all record of fifteen victories and five setbacks.

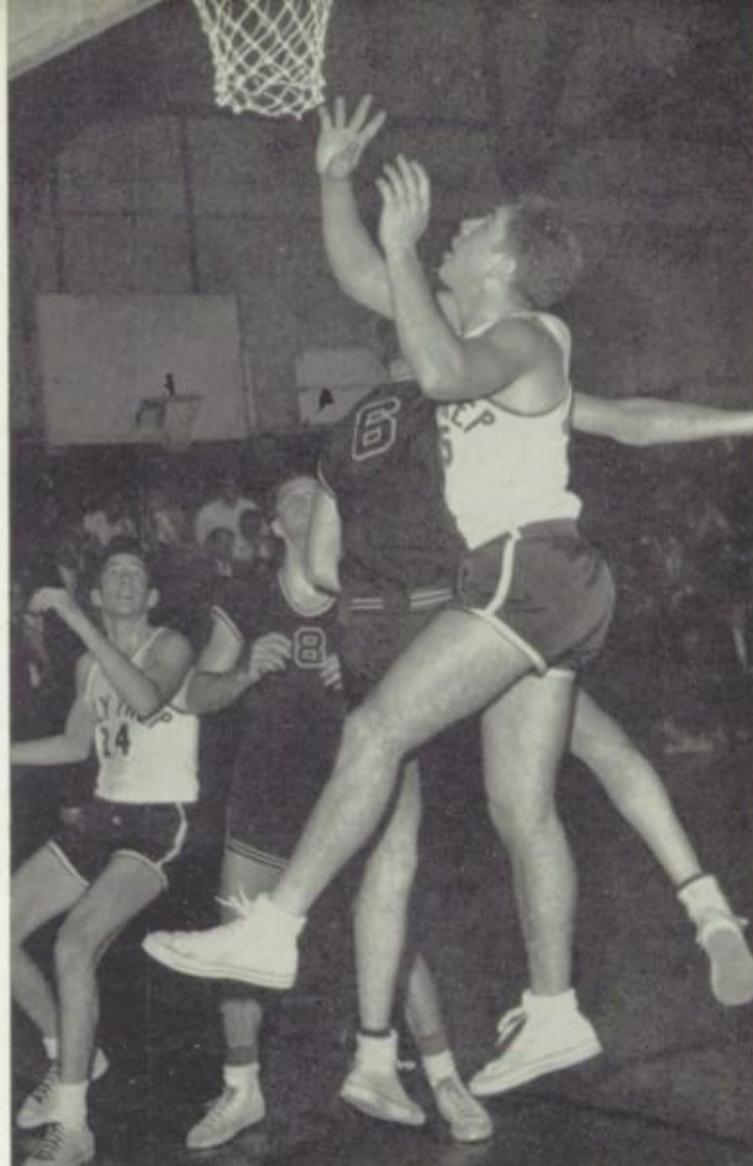

The Blue and Gray opened the season with four non-league clashes, defeating Brooklyn Academy, 67-39, and, after losing to Curtis, routing both Lawrenceville and the alumni. Poly started off its Ivy League schedule on the right foot as the team defeated St. Paul's and Riverdale, both by twenty points. Stony Brook, however, was too strong for our hoopsters and defeated them by a score of 50-30. After defeating Horace Mann, the Poly five lost a close game to Hackley, 50-47. The next six games seemed to spell an Ivy League championship. The Blue and Gray played good ball, routing Adelphi, Rutgers Prep, Curtis, St. Paul's, Trinity, and Riverdale in consecutive games. Stony Brook, however, put the damper on our hopes as it proved itself superior with a score of 66-51. After losing to Horace Mann, the hoopsters finished the season with a flourish, vanquishing Hackley, Adelphi, and Trinity.

Wrestling

THE 1956-57 wrestling team did not have a good year, for the over-all record was four victories and six defeats. Captain Vin Chiarello, Richie Giustra and Bob Feinstein were the mainstays of the squad.

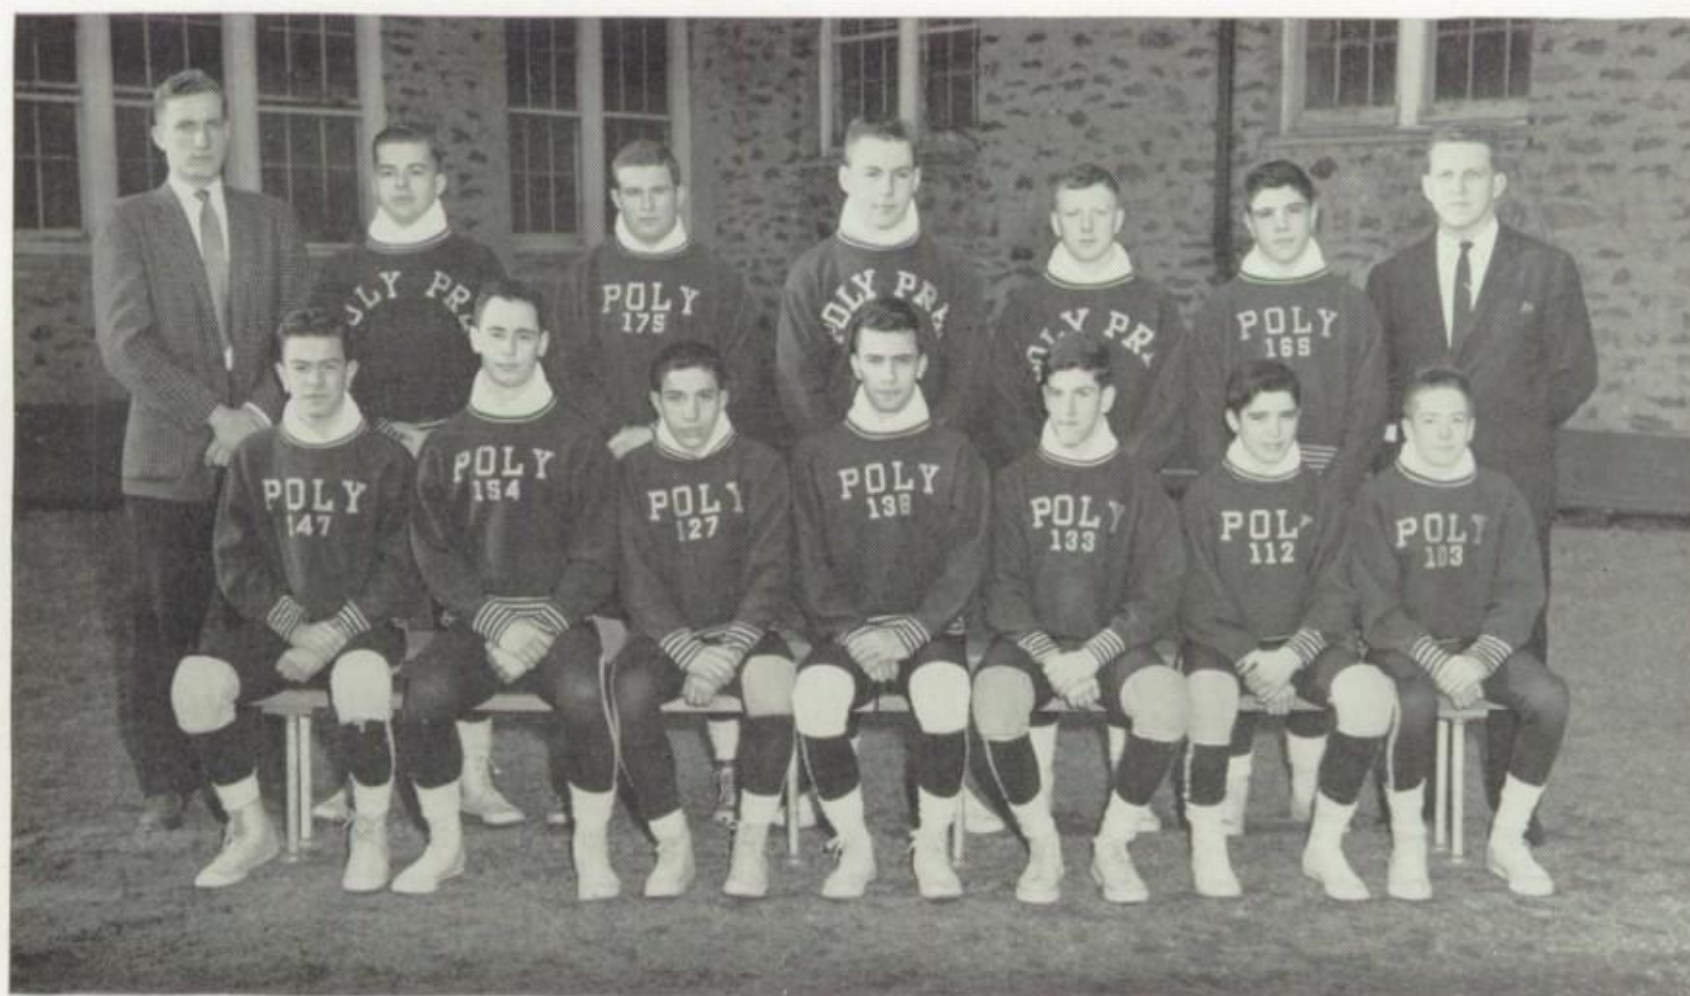

The grapplers were ill-fated from the start as they fell prey to Peddie and Pingrie, 15-19 and 16-26, respectively. The next three meets did nothing to raise the team's morale. Poly was vanquished by Columbia Frosh, St. Paul's, and Stony Brook. The Blue and Gray then suddenly came to life, defeating Horace Mann, 27-12, and vanquishing Trinity, 26-14. Continuing their winning ways, the matmen also overwhelmed Hackley and Riverdale by scores of 28-9 and 24-15, respectively. The Blue and Gray placed third in the Ivy League meet and received 5 points at the Lehigh Prep School tournament.

Board Track

LED by Captain Bruce Henningsen, the 1956-57 board track team developed from a nucleus of only three veterans, and had four wins and two losses in its dual meets. Captain Henningsen, Cliff Bernstein, and Nick Sirianni were outstanding performers and contributed much to making the season successful.

In the opening meet Poly was defeated by Brooklyn Prep, 30-38. The team then competed in the St. Francis Prep Invitational Track meet and took second place in the novice events. After defeating St. Michael's in a relay meet, 24½-21½, and overthrowing New Utrecht, 41-36, the Blue and Gray was vanquished by a strong Ft. Hamilton squad. The runners then placed third in the Poly Invitational, and ended the season by defeating both Xavier and Horace Mann 28⅔-25⅓, and 41-36 respectively. Nick Sirianni broke the school shot put record with a heave of 49' 7½".

Swimming

ALTHOUGH its record doesn't indicate it, the 1956-57 swimming team made a fine showing. The young, inexperienced squad won three of its eight dual meets. Led by Captain Mel Oremland, Chris Cresci, Rick Hurwitz, Vic Rich, and Sebby Scialabba, the mermen placed first in the important Fieldston Invitational Meet.

After losing the opener to Pingry, the natators won by default over Manhattan Freshmen. Although the Blue and Gray suffered a setback at the hands of McBurney, 30-46, it showed its strength by vanquishing Fieldston, 51-26, and Uniondale, 66-10. Poly then placed second in the Horace Mann Triangular meet as the 200-yard medley relay team set a new school record of 2:06.8. After losing to Columbia Freshmen, Pingry, and Bishop Loughlin, the team ended the season on a high note by sweeping first-place honors at the Fieldston meet.

Rifle

SPARKED by the dauntless spirit of Captain James Feldman, the 1957 Rifle team had a fair season winning four of its six meets. The team also competed in the National Rifle Association Tournament but did not place. Captain James Feldman was high gun for the season, but Peter Cecere was close behind and helped the team through many a tough match.

In the opening encounter, the Blue and Gray showed some excellent shooting in defeating Erasmus, 823-773. After being defeated by Lincoln, 826-896, in what was one of the more bitterly contested matches of the season, Poly easily vanquished Trinity, 841-761. The nimrods then conquered the Atlantic District Junior Rifle Club, but were defeated again by Lincoln, 866-883. The team ended the season on a fitting note with a win over Madison, 863-836. Although the team will be handicapped next year by the loss of Captain Feldman, it is generally felt that this year's record is the harbinger of greater successes.

Track

LED by Captain Harry Yates, the 1956 track team worked hard and as a result enjoyed a successful season. With an overall record of six victories and one defeat, the team consistently exhibited its all-around ability.

In the opening meet, Poly crushed Madison High School, 49-23, as Captain Yates led his team in scoring with $11\frac{1}{4}$ points. After defeating St. Michael's, 32-9, the team traveled to Philadelphia for the Penn Relays in which it placed first in its class in the mile relay and fifth in the championship quarter-mile relay. The Blue and Gray then defeated Riverdale, as Yates tied the school record for the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.2 seconds. In the Ivy League meet at Hofstra College Field the next week, the tracksters placed second. This marked the first time Poly had lost the title since Ivy League track was inaugurated. After defeating Xavier and Horace Mann, the team suffered its only loss in dual competition in a meet with a strong Stony Brook

Baseball

CLIMAXING one of the most brilliant athletic years in our history, with an overall record of twelve victories and four defeats, the 1956 baseball team defeated Horace Mann at Baker Field for the Ivy League crown. The Blue and Gray was the first team to win the title under the newly-inaugurated two division system.

After losing practice games to Madison and Curtis high schools, the Blue and Gray showed its true colors by vanquishing Adelphi, Horace Mann, Stony Brook, Riverdale, and St. Paul's. This streak, of five victories, however, was interrupted by a 7-4 loss to Trinity. After whipping Adelphi again, the Poly nine suffered defeat at the hands of Hackley. Bouncing back, the team disposed of Stony Brook and then clinched the Southern Division crown in an extra inning 6-5 triumph over St. Paul.

Using a 4-0 rout of Brooklyn Tech as a warm-up, our nine then proceeded to wallop Horace Mann, 8-0, for the Ivy League championship.

The team's three big hitters, Captain John Malhame, Chuck Kaufman, and Phil Hertz—behind the superb pitching of Fred Shwom—sparked the team throughout the season. A 6-4 win over Brooklyn Prep and a 1-0 triumph over St. Ann's in 11 innings, a game highlighted by the fine pitching performance of Fred Shwom, brought the season to a fitting conclusion.

The following were awarded "P. P.": Captain Malhame, Brower, Freundlich, Gilbert, P. Hertz, J. Howie, C. Kaufman, Montalbano, Pollack, Shear, Shwom, N. Sirianni, and Manager Tolk.

Lacrosse

BUILT around a strong nucleus of seniors, the 1956 lacrosse team, inspired by the able coaching of Mr. Triol, made a fine showing with an overall record of seven victories and five defeats.

Getting off to a good start, the team defeated both Mineola and City College Freshmen. After a solid trouncing by a strong Rutgers Freshman squad, the Blue and Gray vanquished Stevens Institute of Technology J. V., 5-2, only to succumb to Hofstra Freshmen three days later.

After defeating Pingry, 9-3, and losing to Mineola, the team rallied to rout Princeton B Freshmen and to subdue Pingry again but fell prey to Peekskill Military Academy. The Indians completed the season by losing to Manhasset, after having defeated Peddie, 8-0.

Tennis

THE 1956 tennis team boasted quite a successful season. Paced by Captain Moe Finkelstein, the Blue and Gray compiled a season's record of seven victories and three defeats.

Getting off to a strong start, the netmen vanquished Peddie, 6-2. In its first Ivy League encounter, the team emerged victorious from a match with Hackley. After defeating Columbia Frosh in a close match, 5-4, the Blue and Gray overcame Adelphi. In the tightest contest of the season, the Casemen lost to Horace Mann, 3-2. After beating Riverdale, 4-1, the team was defeated by Pingry, 7-2. Poly then triumphed over Barnard and McBurney by scores of 5-0 and 4-1, respectively, but fell prey to Trinity in the last match of the season.

Golf

IN what was undoubtedly the finest year in Poly's golf history, the 1956 linksmen were victorious in all nine of their matches. This marked the first time that the golf team had gone undefeated since its inception in 1939. The team was sparked by Captain Eric Knutsen and Jeff Graham, who fought zealously for the first-man position all season.

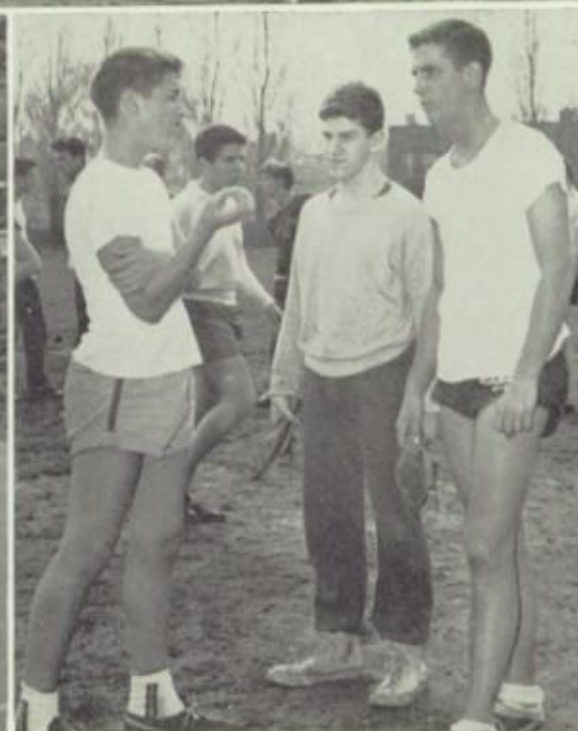

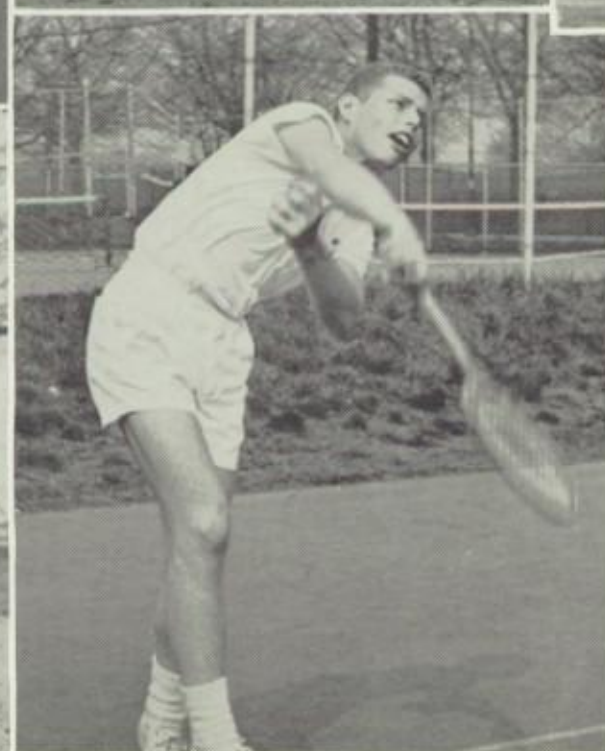

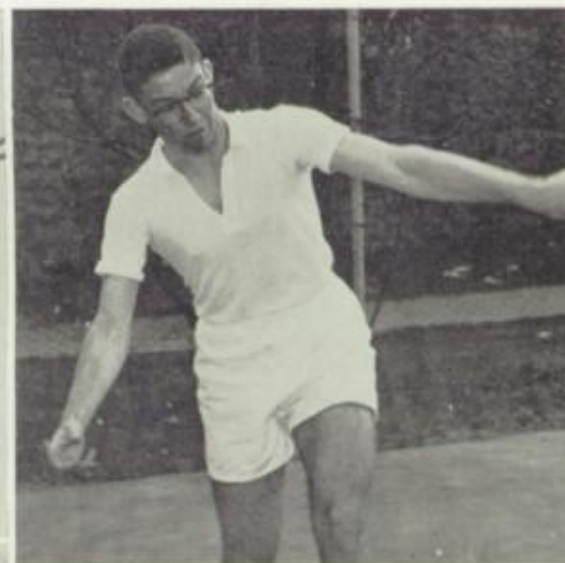

Poly got off to a fast start by defeating Fort Hamilton High School in two successive matches by scores of 4-1 and 3-2. After trouncing a previously undefeated Fieldston team, 5-0, the Blue and Gray defeated Curtis High School, the city champions, who were boasting an eleven-match winning streak. Next to feel the power of our linksmen were Horace Mann and Barnard, who were defeated 4-1 and 5-0 respectively. Curtis again fell victim to our unbeatable team, as did top-rated Brooklyn Prep, by identical scores of 3-2. The season was brought to a fitting close as the Blue and Gray routed McBurney, 5-0.

A WAY OF LIFE

Poly was founded a century ago with the ideal of offering the advantage of the finest kind of academic training "surrounded by the saving influences of home and the family circle." The Country Day School has enhanced that ideal by providing an environment of work and of play in an eight-hour school-day designed to foster the development of scholarship, character, and vision in a well-rounded young man. But each night and every weekend the school gives the boy back to his home and family for those things which only home can provide. This is a way of life Poly offers.

To the Members of the Graduating Class of Polytechnic Preparatory Country Day School:

We of the Brevoort Savings Bank are happy to offer you our heartiest congratulations. We feel that it is appropriate for us to share the day that culminates your scholastic activities in Bay Ridge, since some of these activities were related to the kind of community affairs which it has been our pleasure to espouse. This is the more so as the Brevoort Savings Bank becomes increasingly the center of Bay Ridge's community enterprises.

Our best wishes for good health and prosperity. You have enjoyed the privilege of going through your academic courses in one of the foremost preparatory schools of a wide area. May God grant you a future commensurate with that privilege.

Sincerely,

Nightmare

Not long ago I had a dream
In which my ID let off some steam.
It seems I took an odyssey,
And strange-type things confronted me.
'Twas on a certain Saturday;
And in cube hall I was doomed to stay.
I left my house, the street I crossed,
And suddenly I was quite lost.
When what appeared to my surprise?
A penguin, yet, with slanted eyes.
"Where can I be?" I asked the bird.
"Discriminate" was his sole word.
I walked some more when suddenly
A clown came strolling up to me.
I asked directions of the jester,
Spake he, "My friend, please to not pester."
But now three wretched souls passed by Blood-caked of limb and dim of eye.
I asked "Who thus live men destroys?"
They mumbled "Hail the Dean of Boys!"
I felt myself grow tense and pale.
Were my eyes bad? Was that a whale
Which lumbered up and said hello?
In truth, it really seemed quite so.
But he ran off in hurried flight.
"Gads Gads" he said "The light's too bright."

Then suddenly to my alarm,
There spread before my eyes a farm.
A farmer worked at pitching hay
And I approached the man straight'way.
I said "Sir, could you help me out?"
But all he said was "There's no doubt."
"No doubt of what" I almost asked.
But then the caballero passed.
A Spaniard from some gay old rancho
He said that he Se llama Pancho
His only English words were these:
"The cawliges want A's and B's"
And after him there came a fellow
Who spoke to me in voice quite mellow:
"I hope that you apprishiate
The import of what I relate.
Great playsure does it give to me
To see boys get into college C
Or B or E or P or Z,
Or Bob Jones University."
And at this point I did awake
To hear Monsieur with anger quake
Denounce me as a boob of boobs
And sentence me to an hour's cubes.
I'd failed to stay right on the ball,
I fell asleep in study hall.

PACE COLLEGE

Pace College occupies a position unique in the educational field. It is a college which combines a decidedly practical bent with a strong liberal arts offering. Located in the heart of the world's greatest metropolis, in its own 16 story building, it brings educational and work opportunities to many who otherwise might be denied the vocational and cultural training that means success in today's business world.

The School of Accountancy Practice, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Liberal Arts have been attended by more than 70,000 students since the founding of the institution a half-century ago. In particular, the School of Liberal Arts has expanded its offerings to include those studies which are the basis of a liberal education and of business and professional preparation as well.
